NAMIB - NAUKLUFT

Day 1 - 4 | Windhoek - Little Kulala

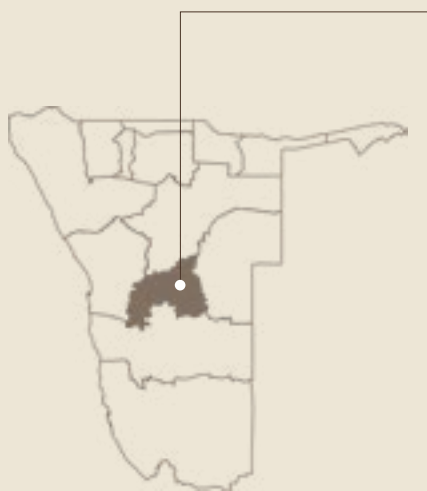

Wilderness Little Kulala offers peace, privacy, and exclusive access to Namibia's iconic Sossusvlei dunes and the haunting beauty of Dead Vlei. Reflecting the local geology with grey and pink limestone décor, the lodge provides luxurious suites with private pools, rooftop sundowner spots, and shaded decks for siestas or stargazing under one of the world's darkest skies. Explore the Namib Desert's endless dunes and unique wildlife, including desert-adapted species like gemsbok, aardwolf, and dune lark. Highlights include a hot air balloon ride at sunrise, soaring over the sand sea and mountains, followed by a champagne breakfast.

KAOKOVELD

Day 4 - 7 | Little Kulala - Hoanib Skeleton Coast Camp

In a remote area of the Kaokoveld, with gravel-strewn plains and dry riverbeds that draw fascinating wildlife, lies Hoanib Skeleton Coast Camp. Game drives explore this isolated area, moving along the riverbed's narrow ribbon of vegetation, where a surprising wealth of desert adapted animals can be found; in camp the research centre provides even more insights. The unforgiving Skeleton Coast, with its shipwreck remains and noisy colonies of Cape fur seals, is accessed either by a fascinating drive or scenic flight, depending on the weather. Eight large en-suite tents (including one family tent) and the main area and pool look out over a wide, rugged valley that slopes down to the almost-always dry Hoanib River.

ONGAVA

Day 7 - 10 | Hoanib - Etosha National Park

Anderssons at Ongava combines sustainability with luxury, blending seamlessly into the surrounding wilderness. Guests can engage with resident scientists, conservationists, and rhino security teams or simply unwind in elegant suites, by the waterhole, in the photographic hide, or at the pool. Morning game drives into Etosha National Park will have you eagerly scanning your surroundings for sightings of the resident lion prides, graceful cheetah and elusive leopard. Sunsets here leave you in silent awe of your surroundings as the dancing flames of a welcoming fire draw you closer for warmth and shared stories of your day.

DEPARTURE | Day 10 | Ongava – Windhoek

After a leisurely breakfast, a light aircraft transfer will take you back to Windhoek to connect with your onward International flight.
